Office Etiquette for Student Workers at The University of Louisiana at Lafayette

- ☉ Office
- ☉ Dress
- ☉ Computer Use
- ☉ Driving

Welcome!

Congratulations on being selected as a student worker and welcome! Our departments rely on student workers to assist in their operations. As a student aide, your job provides you with excellent work experience. It may also provide you with an invaluable recommendation for your next job.

The Retention Committee developed the following guidelines to help you achieve success in your campus job.

Reporting to Work

- Work out a schedule with your supervisor. Your supervisor will ask you to sign a Confidentiality Form found on page 15 of the Student Aide Handbook.
- You will be provided a sign-in sheet to record the hours you work. You should sign-in when you arrive and sign-out when you leave. Work only the hours you are assigned.
- Any changes in your schedule must be approved by your supervisor ahead of time. Call your supervisor to let her/him know if you can't come in or will be late.
- If you must leave while at work, let your supervisor know you are leaving and when you will return. Let your supervisor know the status of any unfinished work.
- Remember, your job is important and your supervisor is depending on you!

Appearance

- Often you are the first person a visitor encounters. In fact, you are a diplomat for the university. Always dress appropriately for greeting visitors in an office atmosphere.
- The following are examples of inappropriate clothing: short skirts and short shorts, tops with your mid-drift showing, low cut tops, and t-shirts with obscenity. Professional appearance and good grooming are mandatory.

Computer Use

- Check with your supervisor on computer use during work hours. Internet usage should be limited to specific research requested by supervisor.
- The Integrated Student Information System (ISIS) is for office use only. Use the ISIS Quick Reference on page 12.
- Avoid leaving transcripts, social security numbers, and other personal information out in open areas. Student information cannot be given to anyone but the student with his/her picture ID.
- Games should not be played on the job. Downloading or accessing pornography is prohibited.

Driving

- If you are assigned office errands that require driving, you must attend a driver training class on campus. Your supervisor will contact the appropriate person to set up attendance at a training session. Driving for the office is not permitted without attendance at one of these driver training sessions.

Office Atmosphere

- Always be polite and helpful
- Be a Team Player
- Take Pride in your work
- Be Flexible - Everyone's job is important
- Observe policies of your assigned department

Greeting Visitors

- Greet visitors in a friendly manner ("Hello, I'm _____ May I help you?") Be helpful, courteous and professional.
- Avoid giving students and visitors the "runaround." If you don't know, ask. Refer to the following pages in the Student Aide Handbook to assist you in giving out accurate information:
 - Where to go for....(page 11)
 - Key Contacts on Campus (page 13)
 - Academic Directory (page 14)
- If you cannot answer a question, please ask your supervisor or a fellow worker. Avoid giving out incorrect information.
- Let your supervisor handle any sticky situations.

Office Etiquette and Behavior

- Conversations, discussions and comments made within the department are to remain in the department. Avoid public criticism of others in your department or other departments. If you have a problem with a fellow worker, speak to your supervisor.

You and Your Work Station

- Make a good first impression.
- Avoid annoying habits.
- Be considerate of others by keeping your work area neat.
- Only eat in designated areas.
- Check with your supervisor for his/her policies on visitors, cell phones, lunch breaks, and homework.

Telephone Etiquette

- Telephone manners are very important.
- Answer the phone by identifying yourself and the department using the greeting recommended by your supervisor.
- Your voice over the phone is often the first impression a person receives of you and the University.
- Speak slowly and clearly into the mouthpiece. Do not chew gum, eat, or drink while talking on the telephone.

Telephone Etiquette

- Be polite. Let your voice communicate that you are capable and interested in the caller. Be a good listener.
- Remain calm during the conversation, even if the person on the other end is not. Refer problems to your supervisor. Avoid becoming confrontational.
- End the conversation with a courteous comment such as "Thank you or Good-bye."

Taking Messages and Personal Phone Calls

- Write neatly when taking phone messages. All messages should be readable with first and last name, phone number with area code, date, time, and brief reason for calling.
- Deliver messages according to supervisor's method for delivering messages.
- Personal phone calls should be avoided or limited while at work.

We Appreciate You!

- Remember your job is important and your supervisor is depending on you.
- Offices on campus could not operate without the help of student workers.

Things to remember about your Student Aide Job

- The department must have your assignment slip before you begin working:
 - ❖ Initial yearly assignment
 - ❖ Break Assignment
 - ❖ Increases or decreases in assigned hours
- You must be enrolled at least $\frac{1}{2}$ time (3 hours for summer and 6 hours for fall) in order to work. If you cease at least $\frac{1}{2}$ time enrollment at any point during the semester, you must not report to work.
- You must have paid your tuition or be on tuition deferment in order to work.
- You will be paid on the around the 15th of each month. If the 15th is on a weekend, you will be paid the last working day, usually the Friday.
- You must sign the payroll voucher and the check voucher for each payroll.
- If you are on the Federal Work Study Program, you must complete a FAFSA each Spring for the following Summer, Fall and Spring. Suggested deadline is May 1st. The award year begins with Spring Break.
- If you are a Federal Work Study Student Aide, you must maintain Financial Aid Satisfactory Progress Standards to remain eligible to work. If you are on financial aid suspension, you are not allowed to report for work.
- Read and sign the Statement of Understanding, Confidentiality and Conditions of Employment annually.
